UniVision Repair Service

To: Users of Universal Avionics UniVision Cabin Information System

Subject: UniVision repair service no longer available after July 2012

Application

This Service Letter applies to UniVision computer, P/N 3070-0X-00.

Description

The UniVision Cabin Information System provides passengers with information and entertainment in the form of videos, moving maps, and prerecorded briefings and messages.

Due to parts obsolescence, repair service for the UniVision computer will end July 1, 2012. Universal Avionics will provide service and repair of Univision until that date; however, support will be limited due to the unavailability of critical parts.
